Childhood

Rozalia Glowacka was born in Poland. She also has a Roma name, Chryzantema.

At the age of ten, she started school. However, Rozalia and her siblings suffered a lot of racism and prejudice in school. She tried to protect her brothers and sisters from bullies who picked on them because they were Roma. However in the end she had to leave because her mother was worried about her safety.

After leaving school, she tried to continue learning at home with the help of her grandmothers and her neighbours.

Growing up life was very difficult for Rozalia and her family because the family were very poor and there was often not enough to eat.
